

Evia™ tableware

Evia™ microfiber tablecloths are designed for the active, elegant dining room. By combining microfiber technology with an stain-resistant treatment, the Evia™ tablecloth protects your table from accidental spills. The microfiber technology creates a very luxurious fabric that will stay silky-soft, graceful and wrinkle-free. The Evia™ microfiber tablecloth is what well-dressed tables are wearing.

Evia™ microfiber napkins are also designed using our microfiber fabric to stay silky-soft, graceful and wrinkle-free.

DID YOU KNOW?

Unlike the split microfiber we use in our Kitchen Millennium® towels and dishcloths and our Brio™ cleaning products, Evia™ tablecloths and napkins are made from unsplit microfiber. This gives them the draping quality and feel of fine silk at a fraction of the cost, and without the high maintenance!

Additionally, Evia™ tablecloths are treated with a special chemical which makes them resistant to spills, while our napkins are left untreated.
